ARCHITECTURE
UNIVERSITY of VIRGINIA

Study Abroad Financial Aid Application Requirements

There are sources of need based financial aid open only to students majoring within a discipline in the School of Architecture – Architecture, Architectural History, Landscape Architecture, and Urban and Environmental Planning – who want to apply for any of the School of Architecture’s international programs.

Applications for these need based funds are due to the School of Architecture Admission and Financial Aid Office by hard copy in Campbell Hall room 225 or by email to: a-school-admissions@virginia.edu by 5:00 PM on the same day as the deadline for admission to the program in question.

Applications for these funds are to be no more than 1 page in length, including a paragraph that outlines why the preferred study abroad program suits your educational interests. The strongest statements will make a clear connection between your interests/previous coursework and the subject, site, or pedagogy of the international program to which you are applying. Applications should also include a statement outlining your financial need relative to the outlined program costs listed on the ISO website. These applications will remain confidential. We will only consider applications for these funds that are received in the format outlines above.
